FALL GREEN LIVING SERIES STARTS WITH FREE HOME VEGETABLE GARDENING CLASS

Glendale, Ariz. — The city of Glendale Conservation and Sustainable Living program's fall "Green Living" series starts on Wednesday, October 17, at 6 p.m. with a class on home vegetable gardening at the Glendale Main Library, 5959 W. Brown St. The monthly topics offered in the series connect homeowners with local experts and the how-to resources for going green.

The home vegetable gardening class provides participants with the basics of soil preparation and the details on when and what to grow. Maricopa County Master Gardeners will be on hand to answer questions, share tips and provide resources.

The series will continue each month with new topics, guest speakers, and local experts. For a complete listing of the "Green Living" class series, go to www.glendaleaz.com/green. The classes are free, but advance registration is required by calling 623-930-3760 or emailing bpatrick@glendaleaz.com. You do not have to be a Glendale resident to attend.
